To whom it may concern

Re: reference for Mohamed Patel of T.A.A.rget

The above company introduced an archery taster session on Friday 2nd March with 10 of our GCSE PE students. The session involved an introduction on how to hold the bows and also how to actually hit a target.

The leader of the session (Mohamed) was extremely good in his instruction of using the equipment and also his advice on how to improve when aiming for the target. The students really responded well to Mohamed and followed his instructions very well. Two members of staff also took part in the session and also learnt a great deal in the one hour that we had.

Overall, I feel the students gained a lot from the experience. They thoroughly enjoyed the session and with the competition added to the tasks, they tried their best to beat their classmates. The students also gained a lot from the discipline side of the session through where to stand, only using the equipment when told and also respecting other users.

I have no hesitation in recommending the session to other groups and I hope we can work with T.A.A.rget again in the future

Yours faithfully
